Risks associated with investments in Equity and equity related instruments:

Some of the common risks associated with investments in equity and equity linked Securities are mentioned below. These risks include but are not restricted to:

- i. Equity and Equity related Securities by nature are volatile and prone to price fluctuations on a daily basis due to both macro and micro factors.
- ii. The value of the Portfolio will fluctuate as the daily prices of the individual Securities in which they invest fluctuate and may be worth more or less than its original cost, at a given point in time.
- iii. In respect of investments in equity and equity-related instruments, there may be risks associated with trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures that may restrict liquidity of investments in equity and equity related Securities.
- iv. The value of the Portfolio may be affected generally by factors affecting securities markets, such as price and volume volatility in the capital markets, interest rates, currency exchange rates, changes in policies of the Government, taxation laws or policies of any appropriate authority and other political and economic developments and closure of stock exchanges which may have an adverse bearing on individual Securities, a specific sector or all sectors including equity and debt markets. Consequently, the Portfolio valuation may fluctuate and can go up or down.
- v. The Portfolio Manager may invest in stocks, which may or may not be undervalued with the anticipation of increase in price. However, the stocks may languish and may not attain the anticipated price.
- vi. The Portfolio is subject to investment style risk; the product may have a contrarian style of investment, the Portfolio performance may not be in line with the general market in scenarios of strong upward or downward cycles. Further, the prices of Securities under the relevant Investment Approach may not behave as expected by Portfolio Manager, this may affect the returns adversely.

- ix. The Portfolio may have higher concentration towards a particular stock or sector, at a given point in time.
- x. Any change in government policy or any other adverse development with respect to such a stock or the sector, may adversely affect the value of the Portfolio.

Risks associated with investments in Fixed Income Securities:

Some of the common risks associated with investments in fixed income and money market securities are mentioned below. These risks include but are not limited to:

- i. Interest Rate Risk: As with all debt Securities, changes in interest rates will affect the valuation of the Portfolios, as the prices of Securities generally increase as interest rates decline and generally decrease as interest rates rise. Prices of longer-term Securities generally fluctuate more in response to interest rate changes than do shorter-term Securities. Interest rate movements in the Indian debt markets can be volatile leading to the possibility of large price movements up or down in debt and money market Securities and thereby to possibly large movements in the valuation of Portfolios.
- ii. Liquidity or Marketability Risk: This refers to the ease at which a Security can be sold at or near its true value. The primary measure of liquidity risk is the spread between the bid price and the offer price quoted by a dealer. Liquidity risk is characteristic of the Indian fixed income market. Money market Securities, while fairly liquid, lack a well-developed secondary market, which may restrict the selling ability of the Portfolio and may lead to the Portfolio incurring losses till the Security is finally sold. This refers to the ease with which a Security can be sold at or near to its valuation yield-to-maturity (YTM). The primary measure of liquidity risk is the spread between the bid price and the offer price quoted by a dealer. Any investment in fixed income carries high degree of risk due to their illiquidity. Additionally, there may be no active secondary market for investments of the kind the Portfolio Manager may make for the Client's Portfolio. Such investments may be of a medium-to-long term nature. However, there can be no guarantee that such realizations shall be achieved and the Portfolio's investments may remain illiquid. Delays or other problems in settlement of transactions could result in temporary periods when the assets are un-invested and no return is earned thereon.

- iii. Credit Risk: Credit risk or default risk refers to the risk which may arise due to default on the part of the issuer of the fixed income Security (i.e. risk that the issuer will be unable to make timely principal and interest payments on the Security). Due of this risk debentures are sold at a yield spread above those offered on treasury Securities, which are sovereign obligations and generally considered to be free of credit risk. Normally, the value of a fixed income Security will fluctuate depending upon the actual changes in the perceived level of credit risk as well as the actual event of default. The fund manager will endeavor to manage credit risk through in-house credit analysis. The Portfolio Manager may also use various hedging products from time to time, as are available and permitted by SEBI, to attempt to reduce the impact of undue market volatility on the Client Portfolios.
- iv. Credit Rating Risk: Different types of Securities in which the Portfolio Manager would invest as given in the product note carry different levels and types of risk. Accordingly, the Securities' risk may increase or decrease depending upon their investment patterns. e.g. corporate bonds carry a higher amount of risk than Government Securities. Further, even among corporate bonds, bonds which are rated AAA are comparatively less risky than bonds which are AA rated.
- v. Re-investment Risk: Investments in fixed income Securities may carry reinvestment risk as interest rates prevailing on the interest or maturity due dates may differ from the original coupon of the bond. Consequently, the proceeds may get invested at a lower rate.
- vi. Pre-payment Risk: Certain fixed income Securities give an issuer the right to call back its Securities before their maturity date, in periods of declining interest rates. The possibility of such prepayment may force the Portfolio Manager to reinvest the proceeds of such investments in Securities offering lower yields, resulting in lower interest income for the Portfolio.

The above are some of the common risks associated with investments in fixed and money market Securities including derivatives. There can be no assurance that a Portfolio's investment objectives will be achieved, or that there will be no loss of capital. Investment results may vary substantially on a monthly, quarterly or annual basis.

Risk Factors associated with investments in Derivatives:

- i. The Portfolio Manager intends to use exchange traded derivatives as a hedging tool & does not intend to take any naked positions. Nevertheless, trading in derivatives market has risks and issues concerning the use of derivatives that investor should understand. Derivative products are specialized instruments that require investment techniques and risk analysis different from those associated with stocks and bonds.
- ii. Derivative products are leveraged instruments and can provide disproportionate gains as well as disproportionate losses to the investor. Even a small price movement in the underlying Security could have a large impact on their value. Execution of such strategies depends upon the ability of the Portfolio Manager to identify such opportunities. Identification and execution of such strategies to be persuaded by the Portfolio Manager involve uncertainty and decision of the Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable. No assurance can be given that the Portfolio Manager shall be able to identify or execute such strategies.
- iii. The risks associated with the use of derivatives are different from or possibly greater than, the risk associated with investing directly in Securities and other traditional investments.
- iv. As and when the product trades in the derivatives market there are risk factors and issues concerning the use of derivatives that investors should understand. Derivative products are specialized instruments that require investment techniques and risk analysis different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The use of a derivative requires an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but also of the derivative itself. Derivatives require the maintenance of adequate controls to monitor the transactions entered into, the ability to assess the risk that a derivative adds to the Portfolio and the ability to forecast price or interest rate movements correctly. There is a possibility that loss may be sustained by the Portfolio as a result of the failure of another party (usually referred as the "counter party") to comply with the terms of the derivatives contract. Other risks in using derivatives include the risk of mispricing or improper valuation of derivatives and the inability of derivatives to correlate perfectly with underlying assets, rates and indices. Thus, derivatives are highly leveraged instruments. Even a small price movement in the underlying Security could have a large impact on their value.

- v. Derivative trades involve execution risks, whereby the rates seen on the screen may not be the rate at which ultimate execution takes place.
- vi. The options buyer's risk is limited to the premium paid, while the risk of an options writer is unlimited. However, the gains of an options writer are limited to the premiums earned.
- vii. The writer of a put option bears the risk of loss if the value of the underlying asset declines below the exercise price. The writer of a call option bears a risk of loss if the value of the underlying asset increases above the exercise price.
- viii. Investments in index futures face the same risk as the investments in a Portfolio of shares representing an index. The extent of loss is the same as in the underlying stocks.
- ix. Risk of loss in trading futures contracts can be substantial, because of the low margin deposits required, the extremely high degree of leverage involved in futures pricing and potential high volatility of the futures markets.

Risk Factors associated with investments in units of Mutual Fund schemes:

- i. Mutual funds invest across equity, money market & debt instruments. The risk factors affecting such instruments are mainly as follows- Market risk, Inflation risk, Interest rate risk, Currency risk, Credit risk, Regulatory/legal risk.
- ii. The Portfolio Manager may, from time to time, invest any un-deployed funds in liquid schemes of Mutual Funds or in money market instruments. Though the Portfolio of liquid funds is expected to comprise of short-term deposits, government Securities and money market instruments, they cannot be considered as totally risk free. This is because liquidity patterns and short term interest rates of the government change, sometimes on a daily basis, thereby making the fund susceptible.
- iii. Liquid fund returns are not guaranteed and it entirely depends on market movements.
- iv. In case of investments in Mutual Fund units, the Client shall bear the recurring expenses of the Portfolio Management Services in addition to the expenses of the underlying mutual fund schemes. Hence, the Client may receive lower pre-tax returns compared to what the Client may receive had the Client invested directly in the underlying mutual fund schemes in the same proportions.

Risk of Quantitative Investing:

- i. Asset allocation based on quantitative analysis may perform differently from the market as a whole due to the factors used in the analysis and the weight placed on each factor and markets behaves differently from the factor's historical trends.

- ii. If the strategy of the Portfolio is to always remain diversified across all asset class, it may tend to underperform the best performing asset class at any given point of time.
- iii. If Portfolio seeks to allocate assets dynamically, based on certain market factors, there could be times when the allocation calls may go wrong. In other words, Portfolio may go overweight on an asset class, which subsequently may underperform or vice versa. However, the severity of impact will be lower due to its built-in feature of asset allocation.
- iv. If Portfolio proposes to invest in ETFs / Mutual Fund schemes, there will be a double layer of charges, one from the underlying ETFs / Mutual Fund schemes and the other at the Portfolio level and all the risks related to the underlying ETFs and mutual fund schemes are by default the risk associated with the Portfolio.

Risks pertaining to the index linked Securities:

- i. Performance of the reference index will have a direct bearing on the performance of the approach.
- ii. In the event the reference index is dissolved or withdrawn by the index provider, such as, India Index Services Ltd. (IISL) (for NSE- Nifty), BSE for S&P BSE Sensex etc., in case of Securities such as debenture, the debenture Trustees upon request by the issuer may modify the terms of issue of debentures, so as to track a different and suitable index and appropriate intimation will be sent to the debenture holders.
- iii. Tracking errors are inherent in any equity index linked Security and such errors may cause the equity index-linked Security to generate returns which are not in line with the performance of the reference index or one or more Securities covered and/or included in the reference index. Such variations, referred to as tracking error, are expected to be around 2% per annum, but may vary substantially due to several factors.
- iv. Any delay experienced in the purchase or sale of Securities due to liquidity of the market, settlement and realization of sales proceeds and the registration of any Security transfer and any delays in receiving cash and scrip dividends and resulting delays in reinvesting them.
- v. The reference index reflects the prices of securities at close of business hours.
- vi. The index provider undertakes a periodic review of the scripts that comprise the reference index and may either drop or include new securities.

Risks pertaining to investment in Gold Exchange Traded Funds (Gold ETFs):

The risk associated with the Gold Exchange traded Funds will be as provided in the risk disclosure document of various schemes. Some of the specific risk factors pertaining to investments in Gold ETFs as part of the strategy include, but are not limited to the following:

- i. Market Risk: The value of the units of the Gold ETF relates directly to the value of the gold held by the relevant Gold ETF and fluctuations in the price of gold could adversely affect investment value of the units of the Gold ETF. The factors that may affect the price of gold, inter-alia, include economic and political developments, changes in interest rates and perceived trends in bullion prices, exchange rates, inflation trends, market movements, etc.
- ii. Currency Risk: The formula for determining net asset value of the units of the relevant Gold ETF is based on the imported (landed) value of gold. The landed value of gold is computed by multiplying international market price by US dollar value. The value of gold or net asset value of the relevant Gold ETF, therefore will depend upon the conversion value of US dollar into Indian rupee and attracts all the risks attached to such conversion.
- iii. Counterparty Risk: There is no exchange for physical gold in India. The relevant Gold ETF Scheme ("Scheme") may have to buy or sell gold from the open market, which may lead to counter party risks for the Scheme for trading and settlement.
- iv. Asset Class Risk: The returns from physical gold in which the relevant Scheme invests may underperform returns from the Securities or other asset classes.
- v. Physical gold held by Gold ETFs: There is a risk that part or all of the Scheme's gold could be lost, damaged or stolen. Access to the Scheme's gold could also be restricted by natural events or human actions. Any of these actions may have adverse impact on the operations of the Scheme and consequently on investment in units.

- vi. Liquidity Risk: A Gold ETF has to sell gold only to bullion bankers/traders who are authorized to buy gold. Though, there are adequate number of players (commercial or bullion bankers) to whom the Scheme can sell gold, the Scheme may have to resort to distress sale of gold if there is no or low demand for gold to meet its cash needs of redemption or expenses.
- vii. Regulatory Risk: Any changes in trading regulations by the stock exchange(s) or SEBI may affect the ability of Authorised Participant to arbitrage resulting into wider premium/ discount to NAV of the relevant Gold ETF. Any changes in the regulations relating to import and export of gold or gold jewellery (including customs duty, sales tax and any such other statutory levies) may affect the ability of the Scheme to buy/sell gold against the purchase and redemption requests received.
- viii. Passive Investments: An ETF Scheme may not be actively managed. The performance of the Scheme may be affected by a general price decline in the gold prices. The Scheme invests in the physical gold regardless of their investment merit. The relevant approach may not attempt to take defensive positions in declining markets.
- ix. Indirect taxation: For the valuation of gold by the Scheme, indirect taxes like customs duty, VAT, etc. would also be considered. Hence, any change in the rates of indirect taxation would affect the valuation of the Scheme.
- x. Operational Risks: Gold ETFs are relatively new products and their value could decrease if unanticipated operational or trading problems arise. Any Gold ETF is therefore subject to operational risks. In addition, investors should be aware that there is no assurance that gold will maintain its long-term value in terms of purchasing power.
- xi. Redemption Risk: The Scheme would ordinarily repurchase units in creation unit size. Unit holding less than creation unit size can only be sold through the secondary market on the stock exchange. Further, the price received upon the redemption of units of the Scheme may be less than the value of the gold represented by them.

- xii. The units of Gold ETFs are issued only in demat form through depositories. The records of the depository are final with respect to the number of units available to the credit of unit holder. Settlement of trades, repurchase of units by the mutual funds depends up on the confirmations to be received from depository (ies) on which the mutual fund has no control. Accordingly, the Portfolio Manager shall not have any control on the above said transactions either.

Other Risks

- (i) After accepting the corpus for management, the Portfolio Manager may not get an opportunity to deploy the same or there may be delay in deployment in a particular Investment Approach. In such situation the Clients may suffer opportunity loss.
- (ii) Clients will not be permitted to withdraw the funds/Portfolio (unless in accordance with the terms agreed with the Client). In addition, they are not allowed to transfer any of the interests, rights or obligations with regard to the Portfolio except as may be provided in the Agreement and in the Regulations.

The fixed management fee will be as agreed in the Agreement terms and conditions. The performance fees as agreed with the Client in the Agreement will be based on returns over a hurdle rate as agreed in the Agreement, with a high watermark. In the event of this date being a holiday at the exchange, the rates as on the immediately preceding trading day shall be adopted.
