

GOOD ENERGIES FOUNDATION

Established in 2007 as an integral part of Good Energies Inc., a Switzerland based private equity company specialising in investing in renewable energy and energy-efficiency industries, Good Energies Foundation believes that climate change and alleviating poverty go hand in hand. Focusing on two critical levers of clean energy and forest protection to reverse climate change, Good Energies Foundation invests in early-stage market solutions and funds efforts to bring successful approaches to scale.

The Foundation provided funding to support the critical partnership between EdelGive Foundation and India Climate Collaborative aimed at strengthening climate solutions, improving climate engagement, and increasing the efficiency of climate action in India.
